

Rights Bill Hits Snag in House

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders are banking on support from Republicans—including one declared presidential candidate—in their go-for-broke plan to win passage of a civil rights bill that would outlaw most housing discrimination.

Speaker John W. McCormack urged former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Gov. Ronald Reagan of California to help round up the GOP votes.

After two days of intensive strategy sessions which culminated in a two-hour meeting with civil rights leaders and White House officials, the Democratic leadership decided to present the Senate-passed bill as is for a vote. Passage would send it directly to President Johnson.

The leaders rejected an alternative plan to send the bill to a House-Senate conference for agreement on a compromise version. If their original plan fails, however, the conference approach would still be possible.

The procedure agreed on requires a resolution from the Rules Committee, headed by an arch foe of the bill, Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss.

"I'm not going to do anything to advance this bill," Colmer said. He also expressed doubt the bill's supporters have enough votes to win passage without some changes.

But House Democratic Leader Carl Albert said he expected favorable action by Colmer's Rules Committee next week, with the bill advancing to the floor for a vote the following week.

"I hope that at least 75 Republicans will vote for this bill that is so important to the nation," said McCormack, conceding it would take about that many to guarantee passage.

Discussing the open-housing provision of the measure, Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat who headed the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, told a Senate housing subcommittee that "freedom of residence is essential" for all Americans.

between the situation at Dien Bien Phu and at Khe Sanh, there had been speculation that Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the North Vietnamese defense minister, might mark the anniversary with a show of force against the besieged base. Giap directed the 56-day siege of Dien Bien Phu that ended May 7, 1954, with the capitulation of the French.

The U.S. Marine command at Khe Sanh considers that the siege there began 54 days ago with the attack Jan. 21 on the base and Khe Sanh village. "We are prepared much better now than we were in January," said a spokesman.

U.S. bombers hit the estimated 20,000 North Vietnamese troops surrounding Khe Sanh Wednesday with five raids. The B52s also flew missions against enemy concentrations northwest of Dak To, in the central highlands, and in the A Shau Valley.

At the eastern end of the demilitarized zone, fighting tapered off around Dong Ha, the U.S. Marine base near the coast. The only action reported there Wednesday was a clash between U.S. Marines and North Vietnamese units six miles north of Dong Ha. The Marines, who had killed 35 enemy soldiers in the same area the day before, reported killing 30 more Wednesday.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Ben T. Comer Jr., 59, a leading figure in the nation's textile industry, died Wednesday. Comer headed several textile firms, among them Midwest Textile Inc., of Tulsa, Okla., and William L. Burrell Co., in Sand Springs, Okla.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Dr. Ralph G. Sanger, 62, who headed the Department of Mathematics at Kansas State University for more than 20 years, died Wednesday of a heart ailment. He retired last July.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — William D. Powell, 43, television writer and only child of actor William Powell, was found slashed to death Wednesday in his apartment. Police said they found the body, a knife and a note which said in part, "I am going where things are better." Powell was divorced in 1957 and had lived alone.

committed with a gun.

Armed robbery had a sharp upswing of 30 per cent and a firearm was used in 58 per cent of all robbery offenses, he reported.

The FBI chief said police solved 23 per cent of the crimes reported to the bureau, a decline of seven per cent over 1966.

The FBI report did not include changes in the crime picture for New York, Detroit, Kansas City and Baltimore. The bureau said 1966 figures were not comparable with the 1967 figures in these cities because of changes in reporting practices for some offenses.

Ruling in Hawkins Case Expected

By GEORGE F. BARTSCH
Associated Press Writer
MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Bobby Steel of Nashville, who is sitting as a special chancellor in the trial of a taxpayers' suit against Conway County Sheriff Marlin Hawkins, was expected to rule today on a motion that could leave the sheriff several thousand dollars short in his accounting for $63,299 of county funds he handled between 1963 and 1966.

Richard S. Arnold of Texarkana and Oscar Findler of Blytheville, attorneys for the 13 plaintiffs, asked Steel Wednesday to refuse Hawkins' credit for cash refunds paid to motorists who posted bonds for traffic violations. They contended there was no record of court orders for such refunds.

Steel indicated that he would rule on their motions at the conclusion of testimony from persons who claimed to have received such refunds or to have personal knowledge that refunds were made.

Former Asst. Atty. Gen. Jack Lessberry of Little Rock and former Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon of Morrilton, attorneys for Hawkins, presented 13 such witnesses Wednesday, and their testimony covered $1,851.25 worth of cash refunds. About a dozen witnesses were to add to said the informant, "you won't hear of those two gimmicks again."

Johnson's advisers definitely do not share the President's public expression of indifference to the New Hampshire results.

"New Hampshire simply isn't something you can brush off lightly," the source said. "We have serious problems. And we've got to face up to the fact that McCarthy can take the President in Wisconsin."

"That would really hurt."

In the three weeks remaining before the Wisconsin test—where the President will be on the ballot—his strategists' plan is to pin down the Minnesota senator on specific alternatives to Johnson's Vietnam war policy.

McCarthy's opposition to conduct of the war has been the basis for his steadily mounting campaign to wrest the Democratic nomination from the President.

Johnson's advisers believe their major failure in New Hampshire was "not nailing McCarthy down on his alternatives."

"We let him get away with decrying the war in broad generalities," the informant said. "That's not going to happen in Wisconsin."

The administration tactic will be to have state party officials, labor leaders and administration figures press McCarthy for specific alternatives in Vietnam. But since the President has let it be known that he will not campaign in the primaries, the informant said, "I wouldn't think there would be any Cabinet officers or other really high officials taking part."

He said the LBJ backers are worried about Wisconsin because:

— McCarthy is "opposing a phantom candidate" and will have the benefit of heavy day-to-day publicity in the state.

— Wisconsin Republicans, with no real primary contest in their party, may cross over to register anti-Johnson votes for McCarthy.

— Wisconsin has been "traditionally for the underdog," supporting such men as the late Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy and Robert M. LaFollette who "bucked the establishment."

— McCarthy can expect significant support because he is from neighboring Minnesota and because he is a Roman Catholic, as are one-third of Wisconsin's residents.

— The only member of Wisconsin's congressional delegation openly for Johnson is Rep. Clement J. Zablocki of Wisconsin. The administration classifies the state's other Democrats as Vietnam "doves" and neutral between Johnson and McCarthy, except for Sen. William Proxmire, who is catalogued by the Johnson advisers as a "hawk neutral."

As for Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's announced "reassessment" of the possibility of running against Johnson, the source said, "That really has us guessing."

A Kennedy candidacy, he said, "could change a lot of things."

"We might suddenly find ourselves with a fighting President on our hands."

that figure today.

In each of the cases involving the refunds, the county general ledger, which is a record of judgments handed down in Justice of the Peace courts, showed that convictions and fines had been entered.

Arnold and Findler contended that since the convictions and fines were reflected in the official record, any refunds by Hawkins were made illegally.

Lessberry and Gordon have presented documented or partially documented evidence on some $57,400, although Steel hasn't ruled on objections to the admissibility of most of that. The attorneys said cash refunds were expected to account for all but $500 of the remaining $5,900.

The sheriff is accused of converting "substantial sums" of the county's money to his own use. The plaintiff alleged that he conspired with JP's in a scheme involving bond forfeitures.

Of the 13 witnesses who testified about cash transactions, seven were clearly connected with the sheriff or the political machine that he controls.

Carl Stobaugh, his nephew, testified that while serving as a deputy sheriff, he personally delivered 14 cash refunds totaling $874.80.

Fulbright's Brother Dies

MEMPHIS (AP) — Jack Fulbright, brother of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., died at a Memphis hospital Wednesday after suffering a heart attack.

Fulbright, 68, a native of Somerville, Mo., moved with his parents to Fayetteville, Ark., when he was four years old.

He graduated from Harvard University in 1924 and started a wholesale steel business in Kansas City that he operated until it was destroyed by fire in 1951.

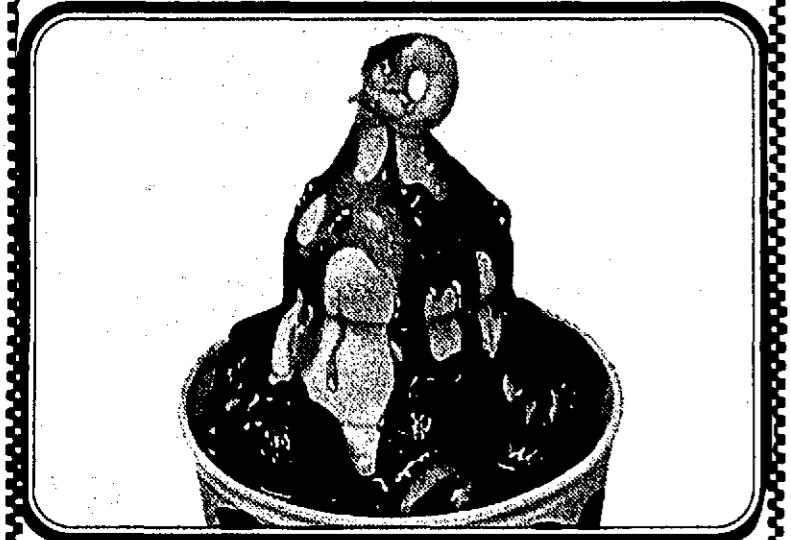

Fulbright's Brother Dies

He was employed by Arkansas Oak Flooring Co. in Pine Bluff until his retirement eight years ago. At one time he had ranching interests in New Mexico.

Fulbright moved to Memphis in 1965 and later that year married Mrs. Alice Deweese, assistant society editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Other survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Willis B. Smith of Texarkana, Ark.; a son, Jay Fulbright of Palo Alto, Calif.; a stepson; three stepdaughters, and a sister, Mrs. Kenneth Teasdale of St. Louis.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Wednesday was a night of farewell and hail on the threenetworks.

It was the night of the final adventure of the team of Mrs. Emma Peel and John Steed of "The Avengers." The mod-dressed and daring character of Mrs. Peel is about to be shelved so that Diana Rigg can return to her career as a serious actress.

True, Miss Rigg will be back in next week's episode, but merely to help Mr. Steed—Patrick Macnee—meet a new girl in town who henceforth will chase villains with him in the British-made action series, Linda Thorsen will have the role of Tara King. She will be less athletic than her predecessor and more conservative in dress.

The farewell adventure of the Steed-Peel combination was a pretty mixed up, busy affair involving some secret papers, a treasure hunt and a lot of automobiles racing through country roads. It is a preposterous, jaunty and usually amusing series. ABC obviously believes the public will accept Miss Thorsen since it has put the series in next season's schedule.

On the hall side there were a couple of previews of coming attractions.

Ed McMahon, most often seen laughing at Johnny Carson's jokes of reading commercials on the "Tonight Show," made his debut as a variety show host — on NBC's "Music Hall."

The show was a series of vaudeville turns—comedians Shelley Berman and Joan Rivers and singing by Ed Ames, Sonny and Cher and the Young Rascals. McMahon, who will be host on most of this summer's "Music Hall" shows, did not do much more than introduce the acts and set the scene for the commercial breaks. But he was gracious, exuded good will and looks very nice in a tuxedo.

Robert Morse was a guest star on CBS' "Jonathan Winters Show" where he sang a song, faked a little dancing and took part in a sketch with Winters and Abby Dalton.

Morse, who starred in the musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying" on Broadway, has been chosen to play the lead in ABC's "That's Life" series next season. The programs will consist of musical comedies using recurring characters and carrying them through major crises in family life. It was created by one of the writers of Jackie Gleason's "The Honeymooners."

Morse, who has a mischievous, little-boy way about him, did not have much chance to demonstrate his talents on the Winters show particularly because the material was not very impressive.

Winters, of course, was up to all his familiar and funny tricks, playing everything from a fashion designer for the geriatrics crowd to a South American dictator.

Keep Skin From Drying

Your skin is constantly under attack. Sun, wind, dry indoor heat, household chores and extremes of weather all steal moisture from the skin. And, of course, it is the skin's ability to produce natural oils that keeps it young, elastic and supple. Defend your skin against drying elements by keeping it lubricated, and always apply an emollient lotion before exposure to inclement weather.

"Company Linens"
Good advice on "company" linens: Keep using them—don't save them! Launder often to prevent yellowing and fading.

Tax Increase Remains on Dead Center

By EDMOND LeBRETON
 Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — After a torrent of words, pro and con, President Johnson's proposal for an income tax increase remains on dead center in the House Ways and Means Committee.

But forces are building up that could jar it into motion through a reluctant Congress.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, who can count on solid support from his Ways and Means Committee, repeatedly in recent weeks has listed two conditions under which he might take the 10 per cent surtax proposal out of the drawer:

— An unmistakable surge of inflation threatening a runaway.

— A sharp step-up in money needs for the Vietnam fighting.

The second is the one that seems more likely to develop soon.

Capitol Hill is betting it will be asked to appropriate for some degree of U. S. manpower buildup in Vietnam—whether it is the 200,000 additional troops that have been the subject of furious speculation or a much smaller number.

And apart from any U.S. build-up, a big bill is expected for replacement and upgrading of equipment for allied forces as well as those of this country.

In combination with even a modest increase in U.S. manpower commitment, such an expenditure would jump the prospective deficit so far beyond the $20 billion mark that the basically conservative objectors to a surtax on Ways and Means probably would bow to the demand for additional revenues.

The administration so far has tried to make its case for the surtax almost entirely on economic grounds, arguing the danger of confidence abroad in the dollar. Such arguments lack the impact that a straight appeal for a war tax would have.

There have been some contradictions among the economic indicators and the economists, and while the majority of economic experts seem to favor the tax, they are not unanimous.

There is room to argue whether the inflation already being experienced is demand inflation—supposedly most vulnerable to a tax soaking up purchasing power—or administered or cost-push inflation relatively immune to such a remedy.

As for the argument that willingness to pass the tax bill is a test of the United States' sincerity in getting its international payments in order, one member snorted:

"Can you imagine me going before the House and saying we have to pass this tax bill because European bankers say we do?"

If it has been a deliberate administration policy to try not to emphasize the Vietnam war while arguing for more revenues, that policy will be scrapped whenever the time comes for congressional leaders to persuade their colleagues to cast tax-raising votes they will have to explain at home in an election year.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Modest Witness

Scene: a court of law.
 Situation: a man is on trial for making an obscene telephone call to a young woman.

Problem: must the young woman, when she takes the witness stand, repeat—word for word—what she was told on the telephone?

It can be embarrassing indeed. As one judge put it, she might have to say words "that any refined girl would blush to repeat to her, most intimate friends."

Yet, the problem of modesty cannot be avoided if justice is to be done. In a case of criminal assault, the woman may be asked to describe what happened. In a case of accidental injury, a woman may be asked to reveal a part of her body not ordinarily exposed to public view.

Generally speaking, the law tries to respect a woman's modesty—not as a matter of gallantry but as a matter of encouraging women to take the witness stand in the first place.

They will "testify with less reluctance," a court noted, "if relieved from the inhibitions imposed by the presence of a curiosity impelled audience."

How can the modest witness be protected? The most common method is to clear the courtroom while she is giving the embarrassing testimony. Another method, in case of bodily injury, is to have a doctor testify to the details—if necessary, with the aid of photographs.

A third possibility, when obscene language is involved, is to let the woman write the words down instead of speaking them out loud.

Unhappily, none of these methods is a perfect solution to the modesty problem. Clearing the courtroom raises questions of whether the accused person is getting the "public trial" guaranteed to him by the Constitution. Testimony by a doctor is useful in only a limited class of cases.

As for writing words down, that reduces the jury's ability to discern whether or not the witness is telling the truth.

Because of these conflicting considerations, the law has usually avoided laying down any hard-and-fast rules. Instead, the trial judge is given broad discretion. After all, he is in the best position to decide which procedure, under the particular circumstances, makes the most sense.

Combat Type Test Planned for Missiles

By BOB HORTON

AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy plans to launch multiple-warhead Poseidon missiles against Army antiballistic missile components on Kwajalein Island in the Pacific in a combat-type test.

Pentagon officials said they expect the result to be a good gauge of the reliability of both advanced weapons systems.

The Poseidon is the new Navy missile ticketed eventually to go aboard 31 of the 41 nuclear-drive Polaris submarines. It's intended to increase U.S. assurance of being able to overwhelm Soviet antimissile defenses.

Kwajalein is the site of test radars and antiballistic missile interceptors being developed for use in the $5 billion U.S. antimissile defense shield.

Sources said no nuclear devices will be used either by the flock of re-entry vehicles released by Poseidon—which carries 10 warheads—or by the Sentinel system's interceptors. Nuclear bursts in the atmosphere are prohibited by the 1963 Test Ban Treaty.

But through radar tracking and computerization Kwajalein technicians will be able to tell just how effective one is against the other.

As one planner explained it: "We will be able to see on the radars just how the Poseidon attack will look, and at the same time launch one or more Spartan or Sprint antimissiles at several altitudes to simulate the intercepts."

The Spartan is the long-range antimissile and Sprint the superfast short-range interceptor. They form the one-two punch of the Sentinel missile defense planned for completion the next few years.

In early antimissile development, the Army in 1962 and 1963 staged 10 successful intercepts of Atlas and Titan boosters,

Mrs. Murton Lashes at WR, Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Margaret Murton quoted from Shakespeare Wednesday in a letter to the editor which was highly critical of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, one of his aides and members of the state Board of Correction.

Mrs. Murton's letter appeared in the Arkansas Democrat and dealt with the principal involved in the dismissal of her husband, Thomas O. Murton, as state prison superintendent last Thursday.

She said she had underestimated the "powers of persuasion... and ruthlessness" of Rockefeller.

She urged the governor to read an inscription to his mother on "the rough-hewn monument on Petit Jean Mountain, and then 'meditate on the awesome responsibilities of being both powerful and rich.'"

"A personal vendetta, based on inaccurate facts, should have been beneath your dignity," she said of the governor. "I overestimated your sensitivity and common sense. The first Rockefeller I've met up close has been a great disappointment to me."

She said Bob Scott, the governor's aide on prison affairs, reminded her of the quotation from Shakespeare: "you Cas-sus hath that lean and hungry look. Such men are dangerous." She quoted Shakespeare again when she referred to Dr. William Lytle, board member and a Presbyterian minister who married the Murtons 14 years ago. "I have nothing to say except, perhaps, another quotation from Shakespeare: 'Et tu, Brute?'" she said.

Mrs. Murton said board chairman John Haley had instigated and carried out, with excellent expertise, the annihilation of a man with a vision.

She said Haley was "a great disappointment" and that she envisioned him as the "angry young Arkansas" to restore the image of Arkansas in the eyes of the world. "I didn't believe you could be compromised. I was wrong."

"I have nothing but contempt," she said of Victor Urbani, the family friend who replaced Murton on the job at Cummins Prison Farm.

Mrs. Murton, who was present at the prison when her husband was fired, said, "It was, in fact, unbearable to observe, in quiet and lady-like dignity, the crucifixion of this man who has given to the Arkansas Penitentiary his last full measure of devotion."

She said she was leaving the state with mixed emotions... "or, to quote Irvis S. Cobb, 'between tears and laughter.'"

The letter was signed, "Mrs. Margaret E. Murton, address: unknown."

Duke Hopes to Erase Disaster

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Duke Blue Devils hope to erase the disastrous memory of last year in the opening college basketball doubleheader tonight of the 31st National Invitation Tournament.

The Blue Devils, 10th ranked nationally in the final Associated Press poll of the season, take the court against high-scoring Oklahoma City in the second game of the twinbill, Marshall and St. Peter's of New Jersey meet in the first game.

The Blue Devils, who were not sure until last Sunday night they would get a second chance in the NIT as the Atlantic Coast Conference representative, failed in their first try last year. They lost in their first game to Southern Illinois, the eventual champion, 72-63.

Duke, 21-5, brings back third team All-American Mike Lewis, who averaged 24 points and 15 rebounds this season. Oklahoma City, 20-6, relies on honorable mention All-American Rich Travis, a 30-point average scorer.

Marshall, 17-7, and St. Peter's, 22-2, each will try to improve on last year's NIT performance.

formances. Marshall, led by George Stone's long jump shots and 23.4-point game average, has visions of bettering his surprising fourth-place finish of 1967. St. Peter's, led by Einarde Webster's 24.7 average, was routed by Southern Illinois last year 103-58.

Another doubleheader Friday and four games on Saturday complete the first round of the 16-team field.

The NIT opening headlines the college basketball tournament scene tonight. The second round of the NCAA tournament for the national championship is not scheduled until Friday night at four regional sites.

The small college boys were busy Wednesday night with the quarter-finals in the NCAA college division tourney at Evansville, Ind., and the second round in the NAIA tourney at Kansas City.

At Evansville, Ashland, Ohio, beat Cheyney State 45-30, Indiana State downed Nevada Southern 94-75, Kentucky Wesleyan defeated American International 90-78 and Trinity, Tex., whipped Evansville 93-77.

Westminster, Pa., edged Monmouth, N.J., 70-69, Fairmont, W.Va., thumped New Haven 97-72, Eastern Michigan took Hanover 94-81 and Central Washington defeated Alcorn A&M 85-70 in the NAIA at Kansas City.

games, Central State, Ohio, conquered Valdosta State 60-53, Drury humbled Northeastern Oklahoma 85-69, Dickinson, N.D., squeaked by St. Cloud State 70-68 and Oshkosh State beat Eastern Montana 82-75.

Oklahoma City, Duke in NIT Game

NEW YORK (UPI)—Coach Vic Bubas of Duke, victim of a slowdown which almost canceled the Blue Devils' play season plans, figures he'll play some run-and-shoot with Oklahoma City tonight in a first-round game of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Duke, ranked No. 11 in the first United Press International ratings, and the favorite in the 31st annual classic, takes the court following the 7 p.m. opener between St. Peter's and Marshall.

The Blue Devils were bounced out of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney last Friday night when North Carolina State, eventual loser to North Carolina for the title and NCAA tourney bid, played a stalling game and pulled off a 12-10 upset. The NIT committee, however, went for Duke, which finished with a 21-5 record.

Bubas, who received some criticism by refusing to stress the stalling State team, says he would do the same thing all over again.

"This isn't a great pressing team," he said. "We're big and we got where we are by tough rebounding and working for the good shot. Anyway, we were ahead with a minute and a half to go and I was sure we'd win it."

Bubas should have no such problems tonight against Oklahoma City, a running, shooting team which ranked fourth in the nation in offense with a 92.7 average. Rich Travis, a 6-foot-1 guard who averaged 30 points a game, sparks the OCU attack.

Duke has much the same team which flopped in last year's NIT when it was eliminated in its first game against Southern Illinois, which went on to capture the NIT championship.

Mike Lewis and Steve Vandenberg, both 6-7, lead the Blue Devils. Lewis paced them in scoring with a 23.4 average. Joe Kennedy, 6-6, rounds out the Blue Devils' front line, while Dave Golden and Ron Wendelin make up the backcourt.

St. Peter's, humiliated by Southern Illinois 103-58 in the opening round last year, goes against a taller Marshall squad, headed by 6-9 Bob Allen and 6-7 gunner George Stone. To add to Peacock coach Don Kennedy's troubles, 6-5 center Ken O'Dea, St. Peter's top rebounder and No. 2 scorer, is suffering from an injured hip, but will play with a foam-rubber protector.

Elmer Webster, 6-5, is St. Peter's leading scorer with a 24.7 average while all five Marshall starters averaged in double figures this season, headed by Stone's 23.1. Marshall, runnerup in the Mid-American Conference, compiled a 17-7 record this season while St. Peter's was 22-2, including the Metropolitan Conference title.

The remainder of the 16-team field, largest in NIT history, swings in action Friday night and Saturday. Kansas plays Temple and Villanova meets Wyoming Friday night. Notre Dame faces Army and Long Island University, top-ranked UPI small college tangles with Bradley Saturday afternoon while Duquesne plays Fordham and Dayton meets West Virginia Saturday night.

Signing War Visioned by Auerbach

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Celtics' General Manager Arnold "Red" Auerbach says he foresees a signing war between the National Basketball Association and the American Basketball Association this spring.

"I don't see how a signing war can be avoided. There wasn't one a year ago because the ABA hadn't played a game," he said Wednesday.

"Now it (ABA) will have a season under its belt. So there figures to be some serious bidding, but probably only where first-round choices are concerned," he added.

Auerbach cited Houston's Elvin Hayes and Louisville's Wesley Unseld as "a couple of pips," whose price will be high.

Records Do Not Count in Tourney

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

The trouble with a perfect record is that it doesn't mean a thing in championship play. St. Bonaventure coach Larry Weise preferred to look upon the positive side of this negative fact on the eve of the NCAA major college basketball regional championships.

Weise said there was immense pressure on the third-ranked Bonnies in the final games of a 23-0 regular season. "But the tournament is a new season for us," he said. "The win streak is no longer an issue. Tournament play is something else."

St. Bonaventure engages fourth-ranked North Carolina (25-3) and sixth-ranked Columbia (22-4) faces ninth-ranked Davidson (23-4) in the Eastern regionals at Raleigh, N.C., Friday night.

Every member of the nation's top 10 will be in action in the regionals this weekend, led by No. 1 Houston and defending NCAA champion UCLA, which is ranked second.

Houston carries the only other unbeaten record with a 29-0 mark as it takes on eighth-ranked Louisville (20-6) in the Midwest regionals at Wichita, Kan. The other contest pairs 14th-ranked Kansas State (19-7) and Texas Christian (14-10).

UCLA, with only a loss to Houston to blemish a 25-1 mark, opposes 12th-ranked New Mexico State (22-5) and seventh-ranked New Mexico (23-3) plays 17th-ranked Santa Clara (21-3) in the West regionals at Albuquerque, N.M.

The final pairings send fifth-ranked Kentucky (21-4) against 10th-ranked Marquette (22-5) and East Tennessee (18-6) against Ohio State (18-7) in the Midwest regionals at Lexington, Ky.

The first-round winners at each site will clash for the regional title on Saturday night with the four survivors going on to Los Angeles to decide the national title March 22-23.

Houston and UCLA, the two heavy favorites for the championship, will meet in the national semi-finals March 22 if both get past this weekend.

The best match of this weekend very well could be between the Bonnies and North Carolina, who had a combined record of 48-3 and finished third and fourth in the national rankings.

Dean Smith, the North Carolina coach, said rebounding probably would prove the key. "We've depended a lot on the second shot this year," he said, adding that strength under the boards made this year's Tar Heel team "the best defensive team I've seen since I've been here."

Key man in this department for the Atlantic Coast Conference champions is 6-11 Rusty Clark, but he'll come across a rugged foe in sophomore Bob Lanier, also 6-11.

UCLA's path to the final four was made considerably easier when New Mexico possibly lost two of its best men for the playoffs. Ron Sanford, the second leading scorer and rebounder, will be unable to start because of a recurring knee injury and 6-8 center Greg Howard is ineligible under NCAA rules.

The Bruins, led by Lew Alcindor, shouldn't have much trouble Friday night against New Mexico State and New Mexico should beat Santa Clara.

Detroit has five games left — two with Los Angeles, and one each with San Francisco, Seattle and Boston — while Cincinnati has three left — with St. Louis, Philadelphia and New York.

Seattle closed to within one point of Cincinnati in the third period, but Tom Van Arsdale and Bill Dinwiddie led a spurt that kept the Royals comfortably ahead. Oscar Robertson scored 36 points while Bob Rule had 40 for the Sonics.

A free throw by Clem Haskins and two fast baskets by Barry Clemens and Keith Erickson broke a 94-94 tie for the Bulls and insured the victory. Haskins led Chicago with 22 points while Jack Marin had 23 for the Bulls.

The Knicks tightened their grip on third place in the East as Willis Reed's 32 points led them to victory. Hal Greer had 28 for the 76ers, who already have clinched the division title. Jerry West returned to the Los Angeles line-up after missing nine games with a pulled muscle but was held to nine points. However, Elgin Baylor and Archie Clark took up the slack with 25 and 20 points as the Lakers routed San Francisco with a 78-45 opening half.

John Havlicek's 34 points for Boston helped send San Diego to its 12th straight loss. The Rockets now have dropped 29 of their last 30 games.

Sees Larger Crowds at Golf Meets

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, whose blasting power and magnetic personality helped build the pro golf tour into a multimillion dollar operation, says he thinks tournament crowds in the future will be so huge that spectators will be assigned seats.

"I think we eventually will see a golf tournament set up like a baseball or football game, where the spectators buy assigned seats," Palmer said before starting his bid today in the Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer has won $953,777 in official prize money playing golf and harvested many times that much in businesses built from his game. He said he thinks the increased crowds will result in construction of courses designed to provide spectators with a view of most of the holes.

"I believe that courses will be built so at least every other green is around the clubhouse, and players will go out and back instead of going away around like we do now," Palmer said.

Palmer has won but one of eight tournaments this year, but his play in tuning up for this tournament has put him among the list of the favorites for the Citrus Open crown. He was the leading pro in the pro-am preliminary Wednesday with a 66, and he shot a 65 in a round at Puerto Rico Tuesday.

Palmer is just one of several contenders for the $25,000 Citrus title being defended by Julius Boros, Jack Nicklaus, still looking for his first victory of the year, and South African Gary Player—making his 1968 U.S. debut—also are in the flashy field.

278 Points Scored in One Game

Last night in the Independent Invitation Tournament at Guernsey gymnasium in Lewisville, led by Simmons with 37 points, downed Monte's Barbers 106 to 97.

Hugh Wilson had 19 for the losers. In the second game Blevins turned back the Texarkana Rebels 89 to 74 with Hicks leading the way with 36 points. Larry Walls made 28 for Texarkana.

The Coaches team really warmed up last night scoring 154 points for victory. Dean's Truckstop, the loser, scored what normally would have meant a victory, 124 points. Kenny Hughes made 39 for the Coaches while Clinton Kidd tossed in 41 for Deans.

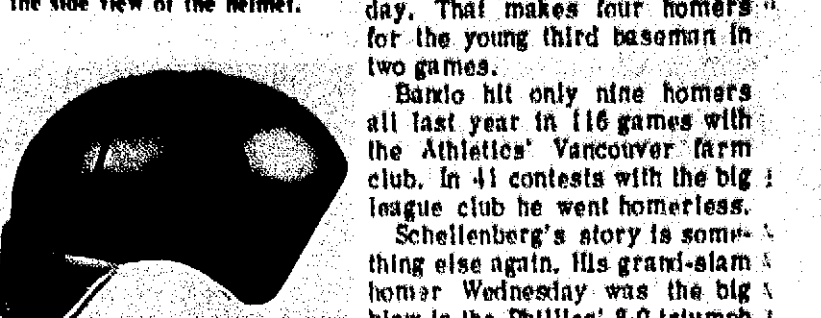

Tonight Malvern and DeQueen play at 6:30; Perry's Truck Stop plays Blevins at 7:45 and in the 9 o'clock game Stamps meets Lewisville Beginners.

Pittsburgh catcher, actually is on a minor league roster but he appears to have recovered from the neck injury that put him on the disabled list in 1967.

"Pag or Phil Roof could be No. 1, although the entire organization is high on Dave Duncan, a 6-foot-2, 200-pounder who hit 188 on a trial last year. Duncan hit 46 homers in the minors in 1966 and is regarded as the man of the future.

Hockey Loop Countdown in Progress

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Hockey League countdown still is in progress but the Boston Bruins have had the New York Rangers' number all season.

They proved it again Wednesday night with a 2-1 victory that left the two teams tied for second place in the East Division, one point ahead of fourth-place Chicago, which edged Pittsburgh 4-3.

In other Wednesday night action: Philadelphia opened up a three-point lead over second-place Los Angeles in the West Division with a 4-2 triumph over Minnesota.

St. Louis and Toronto fought to a 3-3 tie, leaving the third-place Blues four points behind Philadelphia and bringing the Maple Leafs closer to playoff elimination.

Detroit beat Oakland 4-2 in a battle for division cellar-dwellers. Johnny Bucyk's 30th goal of the season with 4½ minutes to play provided the Boston victory, although the Bruins were outshot 40-22. Boston's Ed Westfall and New York's Jim Neilson had traded second-period goals, Westfall's coming with his team short-handed.

Chicago built up a 3-0 lead over Pittsburgh on goals by Pat Martin, Eric Nesterenko and Pat Stapleton but needed Bobby Hull's 43rd goal of the season with 11 minutes left to hold off Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia rammed three second-period goals past Minnesota's Cesare Maniago, who was playing with a broken jaw. It was only the fourth victory in 14 games for the slumping Flyers and all four have come against the North Stars.

Toronto, trailing St. Louis 3-2, pulled goalie Bruce Gamble with a minute to play and it paid off when newly acquired Paul Henderson scored the tying goal with 26 seconds left. Jim Roberts scored twice for the Blues, including a breakaway goal with his team a man short.

Free throws by Mel Nowell and Hank Whitney broke an 83-83 tie in the last three minutes and put New Jersey ahead for good. Bob Lloyd's 26 points paced the winners. Larry Jones topped Denver with 22.

In the National Basketball Association, New York beat Philadelphia 130-120, Cincinnati defeated Seattle 142-123, Chicago downed Baltimore 100-96, Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 142-106 and Boston humbled San Diego 144-118.

Bando Making It Hard on Oakland

By RON RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sal Bando is making it hard for the Oakland Athletics to send him to Vancouver. And Bob Schellenberg is making it hard for the Philadelphia Phillies to keep him in oblivion.

Bando smacked two homers in Oakland's 4-1 victory over the New York Yankees in their exhibition baseball game Wednesday. That makes four homers for the young third baseman in two games.

Bando hit only nine homers all last year in 116 games with the Athletics' Vancouver farm club. In 41 contests with the big league club he went homerless.

Schellenberg's story is something else again. His grand-slam homer Wednesday was the big blow in the Phillies' 8-0 triumph over Houston. It was his second hit, at bat during the spring, his second homer and raised his RBI total to seven.

In his first time up Sunday, Schellenberg, who isn't even on the Phillies' roster, hit a three-run homer.

In other games Wednesday, Cleveland edged San Francisco 6-5, the Chicago Cubs took California 5-4, St. Louis beat Detroit 6-2, Washington nudged Minnesota 5-4 and Los Angeles outlasted the New York Mets 3-2.

Also, the Chicago White Sox blanked Pittsburgh 4-0, Baltimore beat Atlanta 2-1 and Cincinnati beat Boston 5-3 in 10 innings.

Bando drove in all the Athletics' runs with a three-run homer in the first inning and a solo shot in the eighth. Jim Bouton pitched four hitless innings for the Yankees, extending his hitless streak to eight innings.

Woody Fryman, who allowed two hits in four innings, Larry Colton, who gave up no hits in three innings, and Jeff James combined for the shutout for the Phillies.

Cleveland caught the Giants in a hurry on Duke Sims' grand-slam homer in the eighth and finally won in the ninth on a double and a pair of sacrifices.

Adolfo Phillips, who had three hits for the Cubs, came up with a big one in the 10th, a single that drove in the winning run. Ted Savage had four hits for Chicago.

Phil Carls' two doubles paced an 11-hit attack that beat Detroit for the Cardinals. Bob Gibson and Steve Carlton handcuffed the Tigers on one hit for the first six innings.

Washington's victory, its fourth straight, came when Frank Coggins was walked in the bottom of the 10th, forcing in Bernie Allen with the winning tally.

Wes Parker drove in one run and scored another for the Dodgers who got four strong innings of pitching from Claude Osteen.

Jack Fisher, Cary Peters, Hoyt Wilhelm and Wilbur Wood held Pittsburgh scoreless while Tommy Davis cracked out three hits for the White Sox.

Don Buford's single in the 11th inning sent home the winning run for the Orioles. It was Baltimore's third straight extra-inning game.

Tommy Helms' two-run single with two out in the 10th was the margin of victory for the Reds who have now won five of their last six games. Tony Perez homered for Cincinnati.

Won Races in a 'Walk'

By TOMMY THOMAS
NEA Sports Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There is only one event in which a track coach might shout to his pupil, "Walk—don't run," but then the sport of walking is an unusual one anyway—with all sorts of unusual guys competing.

Some wear funny hats, some wear beards. All of them wobble from side to side, arms swinging, heads bobbing and weaving, each face reflecting the wish to break into a dead run and whoosh right by the other athletes.

For the fans, the walking event is a good time to have a few laughs or go stand in line for hot dogs. During some track meets and at the Olympics, the long-distance walkers usually take a lap around the stadium track, then head out into town for the remainder of the stroll, finishing up back at the stadium to a round of applause. At least they get encouragement during those last few steps.

America hasn't produced many outstanding competitive walkers. In international meets, the U.S. guys usually come in about 732nd. After competing in the 1964 Olympic trials, one athlete was given a ticket for jaywalking.

Although a career as a long-distance walker doesn't appeal to many men, it's one sport that exercises every muscle in the body and is also demanding. The walker must heel and toe as fast as he can without breaking into a run. Most walkers are former distance runners who still enjoy striding for the tape.

Ronald Zinn of Orlando Park, Ill., was one of them. While at the U.S. Military Academy, he lettered in track and cross-country running. He also set four American walking records from two to five miles. In the 1960 Olympics, he finished 19th in the 20-kilometer race (over 12 miles), highest ever by an American.

Sound unimpressive? Then try on a statistic for size. In 1962, he established the U.S. indoor record for one mile, walking the distance in six minutes, 18 seconds. Most guys can't even run it that fast.

Upon graduation from West Point, Zinn was commissioned as a lieutenant and continued in competition. At the Tokyo games, he earned prestige for the U.S. track team by taking sixth place in the 20-kilometer race. He was nominated by the AAU for the Sullivan award the following year.

At 26, Ron Zinn looked forward to the Mexico City Games and the possibility of becoming the first American ever to win a medal in his sport. But his destination lay not with the '68 Olympians but with the 173d Airborne Brigade. In May of 1965, he was sent to Vietnam. Two months later, he was killed in action.

Howard: I Need Money I Get from Baseball

POMPANO BEACH, Fla.—(NEA)—Soliloquy by Frank Oliver Howard, who is known as Hondo and has signed a contract for more money than any baseball player in the history of Washington, D.C.:

"In baseball, it's not how much you made that counts, but how much you saved. There's nothing else when you're through. I'm not talking about superstars. There are only five, six of them. A superstar can do five things great. I could do two of them—hit with power and throw. And after I hurt my arm, I could do only one.

"I am just an ordinary run of guy. They're going to forget me the day I'm through playing. So I want to give my family security.

"But I can make a living in baseball. I can be a damn good ballplayer. I never tried to kid myself. I need the money I get from baseball."

(Note: Frank Howard has five children and also works in the winter as a salesman for a Green Bay, Wis., paper company. He would like to sit down some day with Vince Lombardi and talk about the psychology of being a professional athlete. When he was holding out, George Selkirk, the general manager of the Senators, said contemptuously he could not run, throw or field.)

Continued Howard:

"I thought it was a general manager talking. I'd be lying if I didn't say I was hurt. I'm no defensive genius, but I don't hurt the club. I'm not the greatest player in the world, but I'm damn sure not the worst. I think I deserve what I'm getting. Or let 'em get somebody else to play left field.

"I handle my negotiations as a gentleman. He wrote me a letter before I came down here and apologized if I took what was written in the newspapers seriously.

"If I thought I was holding 'em (the Senators) up or stuck a gun to their heads, I would have signed right away. I don't use a lawyer or an agent. I've been negotiating for myself all my life. I made my own living as a kid in Columbus, Ohio. I shined shoes, set pins in a bowling alley, caddied, repaired lawns. Started working soon as I could walk.

"We're living in the highest period of prosperity in our nation. You're my boss. I like to feel you have enough respect to pay me what I'm worth. I'm 31 years old and going into my ninth year in the majors. I've had two outstanding seasons. No, let's say last summer was just a good year. If I hadn't got hurt at the All-Star break—I twisted my knee and ankle—it would have been outstanding. I had 24 home runs at that point, and I'm sure I would have had 42 to 45.

"I think home runs. That's my job. Gil Hodges was disappointed in me the years I hit .289 and .278. He came to me and said, 'You're a funny guy, Frank. Nobody can reach you.'

"And maybe that's true. I've never depended on too many people. 'You like it here,' Gil said, 'you do it my way.' Helluva man and helluva manager. He spread my stance and told me to put the ball in the air more. With my power, the homers would fall in. Gil said my average wouldn't suffer if I got it right. My average went down, but that's because I didn't get it entirely right."

(Note: Frank Howard batted .256 for Washington last year, but hit 36 homers and drove in 89 runs.)

"Jim Lemon, our new manager, has the same ideas about my hitting that Gil had. So I'm going to keep doing the same thing. I'm going to try to play this game several more years. For financial reasons. I learned one thing early from the people I dealt with. You sell yourself cheap, you'll be doing it the rest of your life.

"Negotiating is the worst part of the whole thing. Now all I got to do is worry about the curve ball."

And Frank Howard trotted his 6-7 bulk out into the sun, holding a bat like a toothpick. In his locker was a signed contract for $47,500. That's more than Walter Johnson ever made in one season. Or Joe Cronin or Goose Goslin or Sam Rice. They all played for Washington, too. And they're all in the Hall of Fame.

GAO Claims to Save Cash for Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The General Accounting Office is not like other government agencies. Various described as prying, nitpicking, firm-minded, opinionated, it is a fiscal intelligence service that keeps 2,400 auditors roaming through the sprawling vastness of the federal government, looking for waste and for compliance with congressionally-prescribed pocketbook safeguards.

The comptroller general, who heads GAO, is appointed by the President for a 15-year term but GAO belongs to Congress. It is Congress' combined watchdog and gadfly operating on the executive branch, and Congress loves it.

In its most recent annual report, GAO claimed its activities saved the taxpayers $190.1 million.

Some activities of the federal government, however, are exempt from GAO audit. The supersecret Central Intelligence Agency and National Security Agency are, for obvious reasons.

But some Congress members question why the Federal Reserve Board and the office of the comptroller of the currency are shielded from GAO scrutiny.

The Fed and the comptroller's office are two of the three principal agencies that supervise banks. The third is the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which insures bank deposits.

GAO looks into the affairs of FDIC, but has feuded for years with that agency over withholding from its scrutiny some information FDIC says it must keep confidential.

The issue of broader GAO access to the workings of the bank supervisory agencies has boiled up at hearings by the House Banking Committee on the quality of bank supervision.

Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats testified GAO cannot make a meaningful audit of FDIC under the present restrictions. Faced with these, he said, a private auditing firm would withdraw.

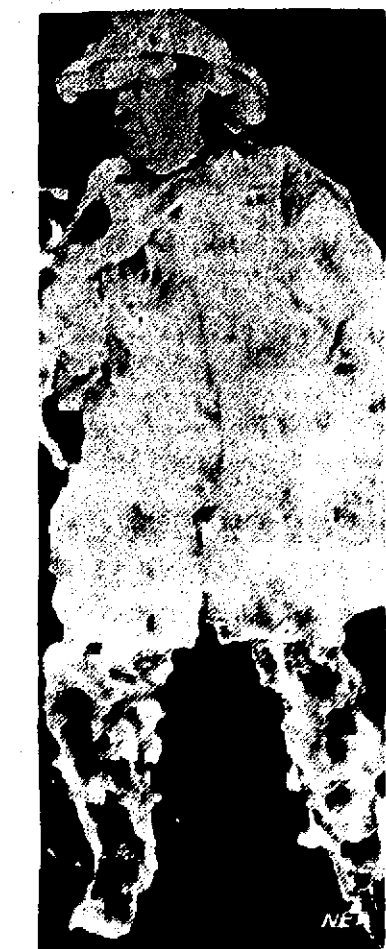

Specifically, Staats said, "we cannot appraise the effectiveness of the examinations in identifying banks whose financial condition is unstable."

Staats' testimony understandably got a friendly reception from Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the Banking Committee whose suspicion of big banks and feud with the Federal Reserve are legend in Congress. His efforts to enact legislation in line with these feelings, however, have met at best uneven success.

Some of Patman's colleagues, however, think he may fare better if the present inquiry results in legislation pushing wider the doors of the bank supervisory agencies for GAO's auditors.

While no one believes there is any widespread weakness in the U.S. banking system, recent bank failures have caused congressional concern.

A committee witness on loan from GAO testified that from the establishment of the present system until 1965 the few banks closed by the supervisors were all small. But the closing of the San Francisco National Bank in 1965 and the Public Bank of Detroit, Mich., in 1966 changed the picture. The failure of the nearly $100 million Public Bank was the largest since the 1930s.

Troop 63 Holds Meeting at Hut

Lifting Gold Cover Won't Solve Things

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters and opponents of the administration bill to remove the gold cover on the nation's currency have agreed it's a temporary measure and won't solve basic economic problems.

Both sides took this stand Tuesday as the Senate opened debate on the House-passed legislation. A similar view was expressed by economists and gold dealers in Europe where heavy gold-buying by speculators continued.

Proponents argued the gold-cover legislation should be passed quickly as evidence of U.S. determination to make available its entire gold stock to back up the traditional $35-an-ounce price for the metal. Currently, each $1 of currency must be backed by 25 cents worth of gold.

Administration officials made clear they were hopeful final congressional action would stop the run on gold in European markets.

The Senate's Democratic strategists were aiming for quick passage, perhaps as soon as today.

However, several amendments were to be offered. Gold dealers and economists in Europe applauded the bill, which would free $10 billion worth of gold for the fight against speculators. But most of them said the measure would offer only temporary relief. The London Telegraph said in an editorial "the Americans simply cannot go on freely offering gold at $35 an ounce much longer. Nor can they now postpone a decision until after the presidential elections in November."

Like others in the City Troop 63 is taking a very active part in Girl Scout Week in Hope.

Gold sales in London Tuesday were about double Monday's level, but sales did ease there in the afternoon. Paris sales amounted to almost 12 tons, second highest level in French history. The record of 14 tons was set last Dec. 15.

Gold sales also were heavy in Frankfurt, Rome and Brussels. In Washington, the government made an additional $450 million in gold immediately available to back the dollar abroad.

Senate opponents of the bill said they wanted to maintain the gold cover as a check on what they called ever-expanding U.S. commitments overseas. Until America begins to cut back on these commitments, they contended, it never will solve its economic difficulties.

You say people are afraid to get involved?

Many telephone people have made it their business to get involved in other people's problems. They've saved hundreds of lives in the process, often risking their own safety.

Over the years, 240 Southwestern Bell employees have been awarded the Vail Medal, an award recognizing acts which exemplify the company's highest traditions of service.

Among our Vail Medal winners are employees who... pulled a mother and her son from the rushing waters of a turbulent river... carried a baby from a blazing trailer home... dragged a man and woman from a burning car.

The list goes on and on.

And we're proud of them all. They're the kind of people you can count on to get involved.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Moderate Exercise Helpful in Colitis

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—What causes spastic colitis? Does it lead to a peptic ulcer? Is there any connection between spastic and mucous colitis? What is the best treatment? Is rest necessary?

A—In most victims the cause is a high-strung nervous system with emotional instability. Although high-strung persons often develop a peptic ulcer, the two diseases are not usually seen in the same person. Other causes of colitis include allergies, chronic amebic dysentery and other intestinal infections and persistent use of laxatives.

Other terms used synonymously with spastic colitis include mucous colitis and irritable bowel syndrome. The treatment is difficult because it is hard to correct the underlying cause. In addition to a bland diet, antispasmodic drugs and avoidance of laxatives, a short course with a tranquilizer may be necessary. Although strenuous exercise may, under some circumstances, aggravate your colitis, moderate exercise is encouraged. Rest is not particularly helpful.

Q—I have a bowel movement every time I finish a meal. What causes this?

A—Eating a meal is a natural stimulus to the entire digestive tract. In most persons this results in a bowel movement within an hour after finishing breakfast. When the stimulus is strong enough to cause a movement within a few minutes after every meal, the victim usually has an irritable colon.

Q—I have four or five loose stools a day. My doctor prescribed paregoric which helps but the condition returns when I stop taking the medicine. What should I do?

A—Paregoric is a very valuable drug for slowing the movements of the digestive tract but it is not advised for the treatment of chronic colitis. You should consult a specialist in gastrointestinal diseases.

Q—Will diarrhea eventually stop by itself?

A—Only if the cause is removed. The acute diarrhea of food poisoning is usually self-limited but the chronic diarrhea of mucous colitis requires expert treatment to bring it under control.

Q—I have had several attacks of spastic colitis. My doctor is giving me Combid. What is it for?

A—This drug is a combination of a tranquilizer and an antispasmodic that is widely used in the treatment of digestive disorders. When used under medical supervision it is safe.

Agricultural Extension Service Plan No. 597707, available at your County Extension Office.

HOME DESIGNED FOR FARM FAMILIES

This plan meets the needs of farm families with the emphasis being placed on comfort and convenience. This spacious plan includes three bedrooms arranged in such a manner that the sleeping area of the house is separated from the entertainment areas. A living room, moderate in size, is provided for formal entertainment with an adjoining living-kitchen designed for family comfort.

The kitchen is a handy "U"-shaped arrangement where everything is within reach. The dining area is separated from the work area of the kitchen with base cabinets and a built-in surface unit. The upper cabinets are suspended from the ceiling, thus providing an open space and counter between the dining and kitchen areas. The conventional range or separate built-in units may be used in this section.

The living-kitchen opens into a screened porch. If more space is needed the living area may be expanded by enclosing the porch.

For convenience, a bath with shower is located adjacent to the rear entrance.

The utility room provides space for an automatic washer, dryer and hand sink on one side of the rear entrance. The opposite wall of the utility room provides space for a chest-type freezer. The concentrated plumbing of the two bathrooms, in line with kitchen plumbing, decreases construction costs. The main bathroom provides built-in features around the lavatory which can serve as a dressing table.

This plan includes numerous clothes and linen closets. The rectangular design provides simple foundation construction with attached carport. The walkway from the carport to the front door is covered to give protection during bad weather.

This home can be constructed of either wood framing with conventional siding or of brick.

If you are interested in working drawings of this plan (No. 597707), you may obtain them free of charge by contacting the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office. This plan is offered as a guide to you in planning your new home.

Studies Tax on Land Stars Own

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The tax value of land belonging to Marlon Brando, Bob Hope and Jack Benny is being studied by the high school teacher who successfully fought to raise taxes on Gov. Ronald Reagan's Malibu property.

The teacher, Brian Stevens, told newsmen Tuesday he has formed a group called Property Assessment Reform to look into property-tax discrepancies and bring them to public attention.

Stevens said Hope, Benny and Brando own land in the same area of Reagan's ranch and the property will be studied. There was no comment by any of the three.

The Los Angeles County Assessment Appeals Board, after a recent hearing, ordered assessment on the 54 acres owned by Reagan increased to $54,100 from $7,500.

More Troops Mean More Tax Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, shifting emphasis from economic to military arguments for higher taxes, says a bigger hike than originally sought may be needed if 200,000 more men are sent to Vietnam.

Fowler told the Senate Finance Committee Tuesday no decision has been made on any big manpower addition to the war zone. But he added that if it comes about, the administration will need more than the 10 per cent tax surcharge it has already requested.

Charles J. Zwick, director of the Budget Bureau, said sending 200,000 more men to Vietnam could cost $4 billion.

Although the administration hasn't abandoned economic arguments for the surcharge, the emphasis on Vietnam requirements appeared designed to win friends for the proposal in Congress and among the public by appealing to patriotism and sacrifice at home.

Fowler made his strongest bid so far to get the surcharge labeled a war tax.

Some Congress members complained last year the administration lost its chance to win quick approval of the surcharge by not calling it a war tax—a term understandable to everyone.

There was some sentiment among administration advisers for using the war-tax label. But when President Johnson sent the measure to Congress he dwelled mostly on such issues as inflation, availability of mortgage money and the need to counter a rise in interest rates.

Responding to a question by Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., Fowler told the Finance Committee he does not believe there will be a need for wage, price and credit controls.

But Fowler said if more men are sent to Vietnam, he would favor an entirely new fiscal package, including deeper cuts in domestic spending in addition to higher taxes "or a combination of both."

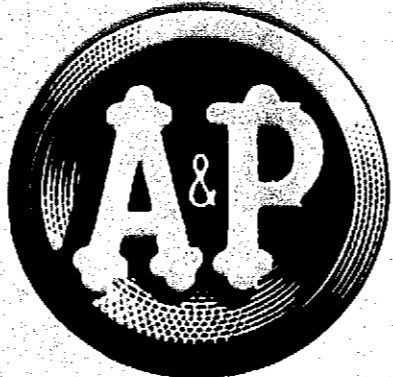

Fowler said he favors a pending bill to extend excise taxes on autos and telephone service.

The Treasury chief also said he would support a plan by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., to attach the administration's 10 per cent tax-hike proposal to the excise measure.

"I'm in favor of anything which will bring about the enactment of this badly needed income tax increase at the earliest possible time," Fowler said.

The House already has passed the excise measure, which would continue auto and telephone excise rates at current levels.

Opening lead—♥ 3

Thirty-five years ago when there weren't many expert bridge players, everyone knew everyone else quite well. In those days Waldemar von Zedtwitz was the slowest playing expert. His partners never minded. They were sure that after Waldy finished thinking, he would come up with the right play.

There are plenty of slow players today and when most of them go into a trance their partners shudder. Somehow or other they don't always find that right play when they get through thinking.

East was one of those slow players. It didn't take him long to play his king of hearts after a low card was played from dummy at trick one. Then East commenced to think while West shuddered.

West couldn't see that singleton ace of clubs in the South hand, but West could see that East was thinking of leading a spade and West wanted no part of a spade lead.

East could not see that singleton ace of clubs either but he might have. East was looking at 10 of clubs. His partner's three of hearts had been fourth best, so South was marked with four hearts. South had bid and rebid diamonds to show a five card suit. This left him with only four black cards and three were likely to be the queen and two other spades.

Anyway, East thought and finally played his king of spades. South dropped the queen and had established a sure spade entry to dummy. If East had returned a heart at trick two and used his top spades properly, declarer would have been set several tricks. Even after the king of spades play, East could have defeated the contract by shifting to the 10 of diamonds. But East did not make that play. Instead he led the heart back one play too late. South led a club to his ace, played a spade and wound up with six clubs and one trick in each other suit.

You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
What do you do now?

A—Bid four spades. Your partner has told you to play a suit and you can afford to jump now. If partner continues to five spades, pass. You have done full justice to your hand already.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding five spades, your partner bids five diamonds. What do you do in this case?
